

The Eaton Area Historical Society

*is committed to preserving Eaton's past while investing in the future...
and we need community partners like you to accomplish our goals!*

The current A.J. Eaton museum space is well-utilized for display of numerous collections owned and curated by the historical society. Unfortunately, the museum is not large enough to allow for adequate display and interpretation of all the valuable and fascinating historical items that have been acquired by and donated to the museum.

Our goal is to remove the existing, modern style garage behind the museum. It will be replaced with a 1400 square foot, two story carriage house style building. This new structure will house our military, school, and agriculture collections. In addition to the much-needed expanded exhibit space, the Carriage House will provide important weather-safe storage areas.

The plans include many possibilities for the venue to be used as a special gathering place for community and surrounding area activities and social events.
